Vol. 52, No. 3 & 4

March & April, 2020

Hello everyone,

On Sunday, February 23, as we looked to the start of our Lenten journey this year, I invited you to consider fasting together as a congregation. I have heard from a number of individuals who have accepted this invitation to fast through this season. I want to offer a few reminders as you consider a fast and as you begin your fast.

First, if you have a medical condition or if you are on any medication, please talk to your doctor before you begin any fasting discipline. The purpose of fasting is to open ourselves to the work and presence of God in our midst. It is a way of embodying prayer. It should not be undertaken in a way that puts the body at risk.

Second, I encourage you to start small. As prayer, fasting is communion between you and God. It is not an occasion for heroics, and it is certainly not a competition. I encourage you to be good to yourself as you begin. Perhaps you might consider fasting one meal a week. If you have some experience with fasting, you will have a better sense of where your limits are.

It may be worth pausing here to expound on limits. What do I mean when I speak of the limits of fasting? A couple things are worth mentioning. It goes without saying that your body will let you know when it misses a meal it is accustomed to receiving. People often anticipate this sort of struggle. Just how much a struggle it is will vary from person to person. This is why it is so important that you do not compare your fast with someone else's. Fasting can also cause you to experience emotions you have been suppressing or avoiding. This can be especially true if you use food to manage emotions, and you may or may not have a conscious awareness of this prior to fasting. Again, this is particular to each person. This element of fasting can come as a surprise. Another limit is practical and has to do with your relationships. Eating together is a powerful bonding experience for human beings. Fasting can disrupt these relationships. This can be especially true in relationships where the other person does not know you are fasting. I would encourage you to be flexible in these moments. In my experience, it is almost always better to break your fast for the sake of these relationships and then to begin your fast again. You can always extend your fast by a meal.

Third, fasting is not an end in itself. It is prayer, and as is true with all prayer, its end is God. When you hunger, and when you become aware of emotions that have been hiding, I encourage you to turn more fully to prayer. It is this turn to prayer that allows fasting to blossom fully. You can pray to God with whatever is on your mind, or you can use a regular prayer to seek God in such moments. If you are unsure, I would suggest one of two short prayers: the Jesus Prayer and a petition to the Holy Spirit. The Jesus Prayer is, "Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner." A petition to the Holy Spirit I often use is, "Holy Spirit, Lord and Giver of Life, abide with me, and grant that I may always abide with you."

Fourth (and lastly), I encourage you to not engage in small talk around your fasting. I do not mean that you should not share with those who are helping to hold you accountable to your fast. That sort of sharing can be a real help and support. But remember that fasting is prayer. I do not imagine you share your prayers in a casual manner. I encourage you to treat your fast the same way.

I look forward to seeing you in worship!

Who Am I?

I was born in Tae-Gu S. Korea on an army base. I've been and lived in many places. I've spent most of my life in southern California. During my life I have loved various activities and hobbies such as walking, bicycle, martial arts, dancing, drawing, singing, music. I love being active and love to draw and do anything with any art. I still know karate and I still know karazy...lol!

I am overwhelming for some people. I have been through a lot, and I have a lot to share. I've danced with the devil. I forgive to a fault. I am in Love with Love and in Love with God. I am very spiritual.

I am married to the love of my life and the Life of my love. I have a perfect son who is made up of everything good that his father and I had to share. He is the best of us. We are together against all odds. We are all about cuddle time. We've been through a lot together. We are in love with each other.

I am a domestic Engineer and a Volunteer art teacher at my son's school.

I have been attending LVHPC for 12 years and my faith leads my life. God is Love. I'm in Love with God.

LVHPC 101 - Wading In

We are excited to offer the LVHPC 101 class again. The class is structured around the three points of our Mission Statement with a week each on Following Jesus, Growing Together, and Sharing God's Love with Neighbors Near and Far.

During this time together we focus on our Mission Statement, Scripture, and our Presbyterian roots. We also get to know each other and how we can live into our Mission Statement.

While this is an exploration class, at the conclusion an opportunity will be available for next steps, including membership in LVHPC.

The three-week class will meet after worship for about an hour on April 19, April 26, and May 3 in the church library.

If you have questions, would like more information, or want to let us know you are coming you can contact Joanne or Steve Salyards.

We look forward to having you join us and the opportunity to get to know you.

Meals on Wheels

I would like to thank LVHPC for you continued prayers and support for the La Verne and San Dimas Meals on Wheels (MOW) program. Last year we served over 15,000 meals to our local residents. We deliver approximately 675 a day to recipients who are unable to prepare meals for themselves. Currently we are providing six recipients with partial or full Meal ships daily due to the generosity of our Mission Ministry Group, church members and other community residents.

Unfortunately, MOW is in dire need of volunteers for board members and people willing to deliver these meals to our recipients. Being a MOW volunteer requires very little commitment of your time and offers great satisfaction. Volunteers whose their own schedules and most volunteers work one day a week for about two hours during lunch hours. Volunteers need to be 18 years of age to drive. This is a wonderful experience to get to know people in our community that are either homebound and or unable to prepare their own meals. It is a joy to receive their welcoming smiles and share in being a small part in their daily lives. For many of our recipients, you are the only person that the recipient sees during the day. The rewards of helping deliver meals brings a great sense of pride in serving others in our own community that are in need. Please contact Marcia Edmondson, (909) 992-9900 or leave a message on the MOW message line (909) 596-1828. Thank you.

LVHPC SENIOR LUNCH PROGRAM

The senior lunch program is still being held on the 3rd Sunday of each month in the Hillcrest Dining Room at 12:15. There are usually about 16 seniors joining together for lunch and to enjoy each other's company. It's a wonderful way to get to know each other and discuss items that are of concern to seniors. We welcome anyone in the age group to join us and share lunch and special memories we all have.

- Beryl Fordyce

Dearest Brothers and Sisters in Christ,
Thank you for receiving me with such love. I truly have missed being among you. Am so very sorry that it was such a rushed visit. Yet, I am grateful to have shared a little of what God is doing in Cuba and our hopes for our new ministry in the Dominican Republic. Seeing familiar and new faces is encouraging. I pray that your beloved community will continue to be blessed.

Thanks to All, Josey & David

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY UPDATE

The Upland house is apparently in the home stretch. I asked for a work date in March and was told big donors and corporate groups had the calendar pretty well filled. The house is expected to be done by the end of March. I've asked to be informed of the date for the dedication. I'll let you know if and when I hear.

Many thanks to all who worked so hard on this project. - Judy Pfeifer

PROVIDENCE CHILDREN'S HOME JUNE 2020 MISSION TRIP

The PCH June mission trip planning has been underway for the past four months. There are 26 people signed up for the trip; 7 from Ohio, 19 from Southern California, including 6 from LVHPC. In terms of projects, this is by far the most ambitious mission trip to Providence ever. The team hopes to accomplish the following projects:

- > Place a laptop computer, projector, document camera and technology table in every classroom
- > Install electrical outlets in every classroom
- > Install a campus wide internet infrastructure
- > Conduct staff development on how to use technology effectively in the classroom
- > Organizing a two day health clinic for the local community who can't afford health care
- > Install solar water heaters at the two orphanage homes
- > Take the orphanage girls and their caretakers on an overnight field trip
- > Take the PCH staff to dinner as a token of our appreciation for all they do
- > Organize daily activities for the orphanage girls and school children

As you can see, this is a huge undertaking but one the team feels they can accomplish with God's guidance. If you would like to support this effort, you can do so in two ways. You can donate for the projects directly. So far the team has raised $30,000 of the $50,000 needed to do everything mentioned above. Another way you can support and make a personal connection at the same time, is by sponsoring a child or adult caretaker for the field trip or staff appreciation dinner event. For $100 you can select a PCH child or caregiver to sponsor. You will receive a photo of the person you are sponsoring along with information about them. You will be asked to write a letter of encouragement to the sponsored person that the team will hand deliver for you. The sponsored person will write a letter back about their experience on the field trip or staff appreciation dinner and the team will deliver that letter to you when they return.

Most staff, and certainly all the orphanage girls, have never stayed at a hotel before. The overnight field trip will be a new experience for them as well as taking them to a nearby amusement/water park. The hotel reserved is the BTL Christian Retreat Center, a two-hour drive from PCH, where the kids will enjoy the three swim pools and all the meals prepared by the hotel staff. Sponsorships can be done individually or by a group, such as a life group, a children's Sunday school class, a family, etc.

Sponsorship cards will be available after Sunday services or you can contact Bill Corrette at (909) 973-0120 or by email at kecorrette@verizon.net for more information.

Glad Tidings India

Thank you for your generous support of Glad Tidings India's Literacy classes and sewing machines. Her is one grateful woman's story:

Mrs. R. Nandini is a housewife. As she was illiterate, she joined the Adult Literacy class in 2016. Now she is an educated lady and she was joined as a laborer in a cotton mill learning tailoring, working for daily wages. Now we selected her for a tailor machine presentation and awarded her. Her income increases.
